Acknowledgments

Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC) is indebted to numerous people for their assistance with the 2003 Survey of Retired Military (2003 SRM), which was conducted on behalf of the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (OUSD[P&R]). The 2003 SRM was conducted as part of DMDC's Human Resources Strategic Assessment Program (HRSAP), under the leadership of Anita Lancaster, Assistant Director for Program Management, and Timothy Elig, Chief of the Survey and Program Evaluation Division.

Policy officials from OUSD(P&R) contributing to the development of this survey included: Tom Tower and Saul Pleeter (Military Personnel Policy); Robert Opsut and Lt Col Michael Hartzell (USAF, Health Affairs); and Lin Porter, George Schaefer, and Ollie Smith (Military Community and Family Policy). Members of the Inter-Service Survey Coordinating Committee, including Charlie Hamilton (Air Force Personnel Center); Capt Parke Paulson (Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps); Morris Peterson (Army Research Institute); and Paul Rosenfeld (Bureau of Naval Personnel) provided Service-specific perspectives and coordination.

DMDC's Program Evaluation Branch, under the guidance of Eric Wetzel, Branch Chief, was responsible for the development of the questionnaire. The lead developer on this survey was Brian Lappin.

DMDC's Survey Technology Branch, under the guidance of James Caplan, Branch Chief, was responsible for survey operations of the 2003 SRM. Elizabeth Willis and Barbara Quigley, from his staff, developed the dataset and documentation. Data Recognition Corporation (DRC) performed data collection and editing.

DMDC's Personnel Survey Branch, under the guidance of Barbara J. George, Branch Chief, was responsible for sampling and weighting methods employed in the 2003 SRM. Kent Kroeger designed and allocated the sample using software developed for DMDC by RTI International (RTI). Westat computed the weights for the completed surveys. Bob Hamilton, Chief of DMDC's Programming Branch, and Carole Massey and Susan Reinhold, from his staff, provided programming support for the sampling and weighting tasks.

A team including Robert Tinney, Program Evaluation Branch; Barbara Quigley, Survey Technology Branch; and Mary Padilla, SRA International Inc. (SRA), designed and implemented the presentation of items used in this tabulation volume. They were assisted by Julisara Mathew, Consortium Research Fellow. Mary Padilla and others from SRA created the Survey Reporting Tool that formatted and assembled this tabulation volume from analyses produced by SAS® macros developed by Richard Reimer, Personnel Survey Branch. A team consisting of Lee Howell, Regan Klein, and Julisara Mathew, Consortium Research Fellows, completed quality control and developed datasets and documentation for this tabulation volume.

2003 SURVEY OF RETIRED MILITARY: TABULATIONS OF RESPONSES

Introduction to the Survey

The Human Resources Strategic Assessment Program (HRSAP), located at the Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC), consists of both Web-based and paper-and-pencil surveys to support the personnel information needs of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (USD[P&R]). These surveys assess the attitudes and opinions of the entire Department of Defense (DoD) community—active, Reserve, civilian employees, and veterans—on a wide range of personnel issues. The Web-based survey program, known as the Status of Forces Surveys (SOFS), provides timely data on active, Reserve, and civilian members. The paper-and-pencil surveys are used to obtain data on sensitive topics (e.g., sexual harassment) and from populations who have limited Internet access (e.g., retirees and spouses of active and Reserve members). These paper surveys are typically administered with an option to complete the survey on the Web.

This report contains tabulations of responses from the 2003 Survey of Retired Military (2003 SRM), conducted August 19 to October 8, 2003. This introduction (1) summarizes the survey content, (2) defines the total population surveyed and the subgroups used in tabulations of responses, (3) summarizes the survey methodology, and (4) provides details on how to use the tabulations. The tabulations and a copy of the survey items follow this introduction.

Survey Content

Topics covered in the survey primarily addressed the post-service employment and earnings experiences of military retirees, with emphasis on the effects of combat-related disabilities.² Questions were also included on the quality of civilian and military life, reasons for retirement, choice of retirement location, medical care, and the use and cost of commissaries and exchanges. The survey was subdivided into questions covering the following seven topic areas:

- Military Retirement—Comparison of civilian and military standards of living, satisfaction with civilian life, factors influencing retirement decisions, value of military experience to post-retirement job experiences, and recommendation of military as a career for youth.
- Employment Situation in 2002—Employment and labor force status in 2002, weeks and hours worked, occupation, industry, and wage and salary income from primary job in 2002.

² The last survey of retired military that examined post-service employment and earnings experiences was conducted in 1996 (Riemer & Lamoreaux, 2000). This survey, however, did not include disabilities as a factor in its sampling plan. As a result, there were insufficient numbers of retirees with disabilities to assess their impact on post-service earnings. Disabilities have been included as a factor in the design of the 2003 SRM to ensure a sufficient number of retirees for these analyses.

- 3. Family and Household Information—Marital status, effect of military service on spouse's career, education of spouse, employment and labor force experience of spouse, and income of retiree and spouse by source.
- 4. Use of Commissary and Exchange—Accessibility and use of commissaries and exchanges, and monthly expenditures.
- Combat-Related Disabilities—Recipient of Purple Heart, receipt of disability compensation from the Veteran's Administration (VA), whether disabilities were combat-related, and VA rating of combat-related disabilities.
- 6. Use and Cost of Medical Services—Access to medical care, use of TRICARE, type of health insurance coverage, use of medical facilities, out-of-pocket medical expenditures, and effect of health on employment.
- 7. Retiree Demographic Information—Gender, race/ethnicity, educational attainment, age as of January 1, 2002, Service, paygrade at retirement, and year of retirement.

Population and Reporting Categories

The target population for the 2003 SRM was active-duty retirees (Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force) residing in the US or overseas on a U.S. military installation, who retired between January 1, 1971 and December 31, 2001, and who were receiving or were eligible to receive military retirement pay. Results are presented for the total retired military population, and also by a variety of reporting categories. To form the reporting categories for the tabulations, respondents were classified primarily by survey self-report. If the self-reported data were missing, then DMDC's Military Retiree Pay (MRP) File data available at the time of sampling (February 2003) were used to impute the subgroup classification. Definitions for the reporting categories follow:

- Retirement Cohort—Respondents were asked to report the calendar year in which they retired. If missing, the year is imputed from record data. Based on this year, retirees are assigned to one of seven retirement cohorts: a) 1972-74; b) 1975-79; c) 1980-84; d) 1985-89; e) 1990-94; f) 1995-99; and g) 2000-02.
- Paygrade Group—Paygrade categories are generally self-explanatory, but it should be noted that the category of Officers includes warrant and commissioned officers from paygrades WO1 to O10.
- Race/ethnicity—Self-report questions are used consistent with requirements of the Standards for Maintaining, Collecting, and Presenting Federal Data on Race and Ethnicity (1997). Minority includes all persons marking one or more of the races other than White and/or marking that they are Spanish/Hispanic/Latino. Non-Minority refers to persons marking White for race and who do not report being Hispanic.
- Service of the Retiree—Service is at the time of retirement and is self-reported. Categories are self-explanatory.

- Age—Retirees are asked to report their ages as of January 1, 2002. Based on their self-reported ages, retirees are classified according to age as Less Than 65 Years Old or 65 Years Old or Older.
- Disability Rating of the Retiree—Veteran's Administration (VA) disability ratings from personnel records are used to assign retirees to one of the following categories: (a) None (Retiree with no VA disability rating); (b) 0%, 10%, or 20%; (c) 30%, 40%, or 50%; (d) 60%; (e) 70%; (f) 80%; (g) 90%; and (h) Total (100%).

Survey Methodology

The survey administration process began on August 19, 2003 with the mailout of notification letters to sample members. This notification letter explained why the survey was being conducted, how the survey information would be used, and why participation was important. Throughout the administration period, additional e-mails and postal reminders were sent to encourage survey participation. Data were collected on the Web between August 20 and October 8, 2003.

Single stage, nonproportional stratified random sampling procedures were employed to ensure adequate sample sizes for the reporting categories.³ The sample consisted of 53,100 individuals drawn from the sample frame constructed from DMDC's February 2003 Military Retiree Pay (MRP) File. Completed surveys (defined as 50% or more of the questions asked of all participants are answered) were received from 32,097 eligible respondents. The overall weighted response rate for eligibles, corrected for nonproportional sampling, was 66%. Data were weighted to reflect the population of interest. These weights reflect (1) the probability of selection; (2) a nonresponse adjustment factor to minimize bias arising from differential response rates among demographic subgroups; and (3) a poststratification factor to force the response-adjusted weights to sum to the counts of the target population as of the month the sample was drawn, and to provide additional nonresponse adjustments.

Table 1 shows the number of respondents and the portion of total respondents in each reporting group. Also shown are the estimated number of retirees and the portion of the total number of retirees in each reporting group. Differences in the percentages of respondents and population for the reporting categories reflect differences in the number sampled, as well as differences in response rates.

³ In stratified random sampling, all members of a population are categorized into homogeneous groups. For example, members might be grouped by gender and Service (all male Army personnel in one group, all female Navy personnel in another, etc.). Members are chosen at random within each group. Small groups are oversampled in comparison to their proportion of the population so there will be enough responses from small groups to analyze. Weights are used so that groups are correctly represented in the analyses.

Tabulation Procedures

Tabulations for each question from the survey are shown on a separate page. The text of the question and response options are shown at the top of the page. To compress the width of columns in the tables, the response options are shown with a number or with DNA (i.e., Does Not Apply) and then that number or DNA is used as the column heading for the responses. The central feature of the tabulations is the percentage of members choosing the response options indicated by the column heading. Within a set of response options, percentages may not add to 100% due to rounding.

Where an item lends itself to presentation as an average, that average is also shown as a number estimate and in a bar chart. The averages lend themselves to a quick scan for reporting groups that differ from other similarly defined groups. Where a true response continuum is available (e.g., number of children or earnings from primary job), the mean of that continuum is presented; in other cases, the responses are averages of the numeric scales presented with the response options. Where there is a simple binomial response, such as yes/no, only one percentage is presented. In this case, the bar chart represents that percentage.

On each page of tabulations, the first column lists the reporting group shown in that row. The second column, Percent Responding, lists the portion of the reporting group represented in the estimates in that row. In most cases, if this percentage is not 100, it reflects item nonresponse, and there is table note following the table indicating that the percent responding are retirees who answered the question.

Not all questions will apply to every respondent. Where possible, the survey is programmed to skip over questions that do not apply to the respondent. For example, Q27 (In 2002, how many weeks did you work—even for a few hours?) does not apply to those who "did not work at a job or business at any time, including temporary, part-time, or seasonal work—even for a few days." The notation for this question indicates that the percent responding are retirees who answered the question and were employed in 2002 (Q22).

Combining Information From Multiple Items and Variable Recodes

Tabulations in this volume generally present data for individual survey questions, but there are some exceptions.

• Race (Q106) is reported in a single set of tabulations. The tabulations show the percentage of those who responded that they were White, Black or African-American, American Indian or Alaskan Native, Asian, and/or Native Hawaiian/Other Pacific Islander. Respondents who indicated more than one race are also shown in the percentage of "More than one race marked." For example, if a respondent indicated they were Asian and White, they were counted in the percentage as "Asian," "White," and "More than one race marked."

- Responses to Q22-Q23 are used to tabulate employment indicators that are based on labor force and employment measures used in the U.S. Census Bureau's decennial Census 2000 and Current Population Survey (CPS). Two sets of tabulations are presented. In the first set, labor force participation is shown for those in the reporting category. The three categories contain percentages of (civilian) employed (Q22=Yes), unemployed (Q22=No and Q23=Yes), and not in the labor market (Q22=No and Q23=No). Those not in the labor market include those who are permanently or temporarily not working or actively looking for work. The second set of the tabulations shows only those in the labor market. That is, the percent responding are members who answered the items and who are in the labor market (civilian employed and unemployed). The unemployment rates shown in these tables are the percentage of those in the labor force who are unemployed.
- Responses to Q27-Q28 are used to tabulate full time vs. part time status based on full time/part time status used in the U.S. Census Bureau's decennial Census 2000 and CPS. Retirees who worked in 2002 (Q22=Yes) are defined as full time workers if they worked 50-52 weeks in 2002 (Q27), and usually worked 35 or more hours each week they worked.
- Total income is derived from Q52-55 for spouses and Q56-59 for retirees. Spouse earnings (Q52); income from stocks, bonds, annuities, etc. (Q53); retirement pay (civilian and military); social security and other pensions (Q54); and Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Aid for Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), and other forms of transfer income (Q55), are added to comparable data on retirees obtained from Q56-59, respectively, to estimate total income. If spouse income data are missing however, family income is the total income of married retirees calculated from responses to Q56-59. Similarly, total income is computed from Q56-59 for unmarried retirees.
- Out-of-pocket costs of medical care are derived from responses to Q94.
 Retirees have the option of answering this question with a dollar amount or by writing in a range of "at least $____ but no more than $____." For those who answered the question by indicating a range, the average of the numbers indicated for the range is used as their response to the question.
- Top coding of extreme values of survey responses has been applied to selected survey items that measure dollar amounts. The procedure is an application of the method employed by the U.S. Bureau of the Census in Census 2000 as well as the CPS. The following steps summarize the procedure reported by Mackin and Darling (2004). First, identify the top 3% of respondents with a valid value (i.e., the sub sample of survey respondents with valid responses at or above the 97th percentile of the frequency distribution for the item). Next, identify the survey value that defines the top 0.5% of all respondents, including valid skips which are coded as $0. The top code is the larger of these two survey values. Third, calculate the weighted mean of all survey values that equal or exceed this number using person weights computed for the survey. Survey responses above this top code are then recoded to equal this mean value. The survey items where top coding has been employed in this tabulation volume include earnings and income, expenditures at commissaries and exchanges, and out-of-pocket medical cost. Earnings and income by source are derived from Q38 and Q55-59 for retirees, and Q52-55 for spouses. Expenditures at commissaries and exchanges are provided by Q63 and Q69, respectively, and out-of-pocket medical cost by Q94.

Margins of Error

The complex sample design required weighting to produce population estimates such as percentages.⁴ This also means that the typical rule of thumb for interpreting how good an estimate is, such as the number of respondents, will overstate the reliability of the estimate. For this report, variance estimates were calculated using SAS® PROC SURVEYMEANS.

By definition, sample surveys are subject to sampling error. Standard errors are estimates of the variance around population parameters, such as percentages or means, and are used to construct margins of error (i.e., confidence interval half-widths). Percentages and means in these tabulations are reported with margins of error based on 95% confidence intervals. In order to compress the data display, only the maximum margin of error (Max ME) for the percentages in the row is shown. That is, the margin of error is calculated for each response option percentage and the largest of these is printed. For each average shown in these tabulations, its margin of error is printed.

Estimates may be unstable based on a small number of observations or relatively large variance in the data or weights. Particularly unstable estimates are suppressed or annotated in these tabulations. The following rules are used:

- "o" indicates that no one in any reporting group selected the response option,
- "NR" indicates the estimate is Not Reportable because it was based on fewer than 30 respondents or the relative standard error was high,
- "NA" indicates the response option was Not Applicable for the reporting category because it was not selected by any respondent in that category,
- "No Max ME" is printed when all percentages in the row are shown as "NR,"
- "No margin of error" is printed for an average when it is shown as "NR."

⁴ This differential weighting means that only certain statistical software procedures, such as PROC SURVEYMEANS, correctly calculate standard errors, variance, or tests of statistical significance.

Note. Percent responding are Retirees who answered the question and received the Purple Heart Medal (Q72). Please note that Retirees are assigned to a "Disability" category based solely on VA record data at the time of sampling. Given the time lag between sampling and survey completion, it would not be unexpected for a limited number of respondents' disability category to have changed by the time they took the survey.

NR: Not reportable - cell size less than 30 or low precision.

PRIVACY NOTICE

In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-579), this notice informs you of the purpose of the survey and how the findings will be used. Please read it carefully.

Authority: 10 United States Code, Sections 136, 1782, and 2358.

Principal Purpose: Information collected in this survey will be used to assess the impact of military service and other factors on lifetime earnings. Reports will be provided to the Office of the Secretary of Defense and each Military Department. Some findings may be published by the Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC) or in professional journals, or presented at conferences, symposia, and scientific meetings. In no case will the data be reported or used for identifiable individual(s).

Routine Uses: None.

Disclosure: Providing information on this survey is voluntary. There is no penalty if you choose not to respond. However, maximum participation is encouraged so that the data will be complete and representative. Your survey responses will be treated as confidential. Identifying information will be used only by persons engaged in, and for purposes of, the survey research.

ABOUT THIS QUESTIONNAIRE

The Department of Defense needs career and income information to adequately assess the impact of military service and other factors on lifetime earnings. The survey is not intended to capture all aspects of your military and civilian careers; instead it builds a composite picture of post-retirement careers by surveying retirees who have retired over the past 32 years.

You have been selected at random to be part of a sample of people who represent retired military personnel. The only information used to sample individuals for this survey was demographic group membership defined by Military Service, rank (officer/enlisted), race/ethnicity (majority/minority), years since retirement, and VA disability status. Enough people were scientifically sampled for this survey so that valid conclusions can be made about military retirees' lifetime earnings. However, the validity of the survey results will be diminished if you do not fill out the survey. Please complete this survey as soon as possible.

If you have any questions about the purpose of this survey or how confidentiality will be maintained, you may contact the DMDC Survey Processing Center: Data Recognition Corporation, PO Box 5720, Hopkins, MN 55343. You may also contact the Survey Processing Center via electronic mail (email) at RetSurvey@osd.pentagon.mil or toll-free at 1-800-881-5307.

	DETERMINATIONS OF COMBAT-RELATEDNESS
	Direct Result of Armed Conflict —refers to disease or injury incurred in the line of duty as a direct result of armed conflict. Armed conflict includes war, expedition, occupation of hostile area, battle, skirmish, raid, invasion, rebellion, guerilla action, riot, or other action in which Service members are engaged with a hostile nation, faction, force, or terrorists. Armed conflict also includes incidents while a POW or held against your will

by a hostile or belligerent force.

While Engaged in Hazardous Service-such duties include, but are not limited to aerial flight, parachute, demolition, experimental stress, and diving. Injury or disease must be a direct result of actions taken in performing such service.

In the Performance of Duty Under Conditions Simulating War-covers disabilities resulting from military training such as war games, practice alerts, tactical exercises, airborne operations, leadership reaction courses, live-fire weapons training, hand-to-hand combat training, rappelling, and negotiation of combat confidence and obstacle courses. This does NOT include physical training activities, such as calisthenics and jogging or formation running and supervised sports.

Instrumentality of War-covers disabilities incurred due to a hazard or risk of the Service involving an instrumentality of war defined as a vehicle, vessel, or device designed primarily for military service. Such disabilities can be incurred during any period of service as a result of such diverse causes as wounds caused by military weapon, accidents involving a military combat vehicle, injury or sickness caused by fumes, gases, or explosion of military ordinance, vehicles, or material.
